

Discover secret ways to remove warts the doctors don't want you to know.

If you have a stubborn wart that even doctors can't help you with, then it is time to turn to home remedies.

In fact, many home remedies are even more effective and affordable than trips to the doctor or medical procedures to remove warts.

The following are some wart removal treatments that doctors don't want you to know about because they are so inexpensive and affordable.

Here are some home remedies that you can try.

A home remedy to remove warts from your body is to use lemon slices, apple cider, and salt.

To do this, be sure to slice a lemon and to soak the slices in a healthy batch of apple cider. Add some salt to this solution and allow it to sit for a couple of weeks. To apply this treatment, take the time to rub the slices on the affected area. You should see results within a few days.

Another effective treatment for warts is Echinacea. This is a great item to use to help your immune system work at its very best. To use this product, take the time to apply the product to the affected area as many as three times a day. This can heal a wart in as little time as a few days to as many as a

To use this product, take the time to take the capsules as often as three times a day. This can heal a wart in as little time as a few days to as many as a few weeks.

This product is for you if you have a small wart and simply don't have time to peel garlic or cut lemons.

Garlic really does make the world go round when it comes to removing warts from your body.

This item is full of anti-viral agents to help rid your body of warts. Take some garlic, peel it, and then cut a sliver or slice that is roughly the size of the wart. Press to your skin and hold it still with a bandage.

By doing this, a blister should form over the wart. With repeated applications, this blister and the wart should fall off.
